The Full Story

Because you've already booked your photography with me, I wanted to let you in on something I've been working on behind the scenes.

I've teamed up with two lovely wedding creatives who I regularly work alongside, one specialising in wedding videography and the other in wedding content creation.

Together, we've created The Full Story, a wedding media team bringing photography, content and videography together for your wedding day.

Meet Rhys

I'm a creative through and through, and have had a camera in my hands for as long as I can remember. I've been working in the creative industry since 2022, and after filming my first wedding, I was hooked.

I love capturing real moments and turning them into a film that feels personal, emotional and completely unique to you, something you can relive for years to come.

Meet Amelya

A Staffordshire-based Wedding Content Creator with over 7 years of experience in the creative industry. While I'm newer to weddings professionally, I bring a fresh perspective and a genuine passion for capturing the magic of your day.

I understand how important every moment is, from the big "I do's" to the little details you'll want to remember. I create bespoke content that captures the joy, laughter and love of your day, giving you memories to relive and share almost instantly.

The Full Story

What is it?

The idea is really simple.

You'll still book each of us separately, with our own contracts and payments, but on your wedding day we'll work together as a team.

That means we can all capture your day from slightly different perspectives, while making sure we're communicating with each other and working alongside one another throughout the day.

Photography

Your beautiful, timeless wedding photographs, capturing all the big moments and little details.

Videography

Your day captured in motion, giving you the chance to relive the moments, sounds and atmosphere for years to come.

Content Creation

All those in-between moments, behind-the-scenes clips and little snippets of your day, ready to enjoy and share almost instantly.

Together, it means you get the full story of your wedding day.

What Does It Mean For You?

If you're considering adding wedding videography or content creation alongside your photography, there's an exclusive saving available when you book through The Full Story.

Reviews

We honestly cannot recommend Meg, Amelya and Rhys enough! Having our photographer, content creator and videographer all working together on our wedding day was honestly one of the best decisions we made.

From the moment they arrived, they worked together so naturally and seamlessly. It genuinely felt like they had been a team forever. They all have such a similar vision, creativity and passion for what they do, and you could see how well they understood each other. They bounced ideas off one another, knew exactly what the other was thinking and constantly came up with new ways to capture our day.

What really stood out to us was that they weren't just there to take photos and videos they were fully invested in our wedding. They cared about capturing the little moments just as much as the big ones. The emotions, the laughter, the chaos, the tiny details and all those moments we didn't even realise were happening.

They somehow managed to be everywhere without ever feeling intrusive, and they made us feel so comfortable throughout the entire day. They brought such a lovely energy with them, and having them around genuinely made the day even more enjoyable.

You can tell that Meg, Amelya and Rhys absolutely love what they do. Their passion, creativity and attention to detail is incredible, and the fact that they work so brilliantly together makes them such a special team.

Our wedding day went by in a heartbeat, but because of them, we now have the most amazing memories that we can look back on and relive whenever we want.

If you're getting married and thinking about booking a photographer, content creator and videographer, PLEASE book these three! You genuinely won't regret it. They are incredibly talented, professional, creative and, most importantly, such lovely people.

Reviews

We had the absolute pleasure of having Meg, Rhys and Amelya as our photographer, videographer and content creator for our wedding in July, and they made the most incredible team. From our very first conversation and meeting, right through to the planning and execution of the day, everything was handled so smoothly and professionally. They completely understood the photos and footage we wanted and captured our day so beautifully, we honestly couldn't be happier with the results. There were so many moments where they went above and beyond to capture those magical shots, and we were so grateful to have such an amazing team by our side throughout the day. Thank you again, Meg, Rhys and Amelya, for everything! We couldn't recommend you enough!

A Little Something For My Existing Couples

There's absolutely no pressure to add anything to your booking.

If it's something you'd like to know a little more about, I'd be very happy to introduce you to the rest of the team, send over their details and share the discount code with you.
